Governor Claims Girl's $100,000 Suit Is Part of Huge Conspiracy

Miss Frances Birkhead, above, and Governor Lee M. Russell.

By NEA Service
JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 27.—The whole state of Mississippi finds itself divided into two opposing factions as a result of the $100,000 suit for alleged betrayal brought by Miss Frances Birkhead against Governor Lee M. Russell.

The suit, brought by the chief executive's former stenographer, is to come up for trial in the federal court at Oxford, Miss., December 4. Since the charges were made last February, factions have formed and there have been many heated quarrels over the case.

Miss Birkhead charges in her complaint, that while she was employed by Russell, he betrayed her, Russell not only denies her charges, but rejoins with a counter charge that Miss Birkhead is merely the tool of his political enemies who are trying to wreck his life.

MONDELL SETS FORTH VIEWS ON UNMERGER

Wyoming and Idaho Commissions Go on Record for Divorce

NEVADA FAVORS S. P.

George E. Erb Sets Forth Gem State Views on Situation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Public service commissions of two western states—Wyoming and Idaho—put themselves on record today before the interstate commerce commission as favoring separation of the Central Pacific from the Southern Pacific, while the Nevada commission urged continuation of the merger. Representatives of the three commissions expressed their views at the hearing of the Southern Pacific's application for authority to retain the Central Pacific, even though the supreme court has ordered separation.

Representative Mondell, the Republican house leader aiding the Wyoming commission in argument against the merger, took the position that general national interests required an independent Central Pacific in order that transcontinental lines might be maintained not only in efficient operation but in competitive operation. The interests of his state, he contended, were particularly affected.

IMPORTANT FOR WYOMING.
"The matter now before the commission is undoubtedly the most important as affecting the interests of Wyoming and Idaho, people that have been or that is likely to be brought before this commission," Mr. Mondell asserted. "Other gentlemen will undoubtedly go into details as to population dependent directly or indirectly on the road, desiring to refer merely to the larger and more general features of the situation. Unfriendly management of the Central Pacific might easily create a situation in which the Union Pacific might lose a large part of its present tonnage and business. On the other hand, with the Central Pacific under management and control singly and wholeheartedly favorable to the development of the transcontinental systems, the service now rendered in and to Wyoming would be extended, enlarged and improved."

INDEPENDENT CONTROL
Even in the absence of a supreme court decision, the commission would be obliged to "favor and insist upon an independent control of the Central Pacific," Mr. Mondell declared, adding that the decision had eliminated all questions as to the necessity of the separation of the two lines. He said that the decision had eliminated all questions as to the necessity of the separation of the two lines. He said that the decision had eliminated all questions as to the necessity of the separation of the two lines.

NEVADA FOR ESPEE
J. S. Shaughnessy of the Nevada public service commission, coming to the support of the Southern Pacific's application, declared, "The economic welfare of the state of Nevada is forwarded by the present association between the two roads."

The state government desires to endorse its presentation here just as we would endorse the advancement of any other industry we have," he said. "We look upon unified operation of the Central Pacific and the Southern Pacific as one of our leading enterprises."

Mr. Shaughnessy introduced statistical calculations to show that $797,000 per annum, now being paid in wages in Nevada to employees of the joint system would be eliminated by separation.

Claude L. Draper, chairman of the public service commission of Wyoming, followed up Mr. Mondell's presentation with a study of rates and service details which, in his judgment made the separation desirable from the point of view of Wyoming railroad users.

For Idaho, George E. Erb, a member of the public service commission, argued that separation of the railroads now unified would be advantageous.

"We are in the light of the supreme court's decision that the Central Pacific has always been separated from the Southern Pacific," Commissioner Potter observed during the examination of Mr. Shaughnessy, "and that his proceeding to determine whether a union between the two is desirable. Now do you think it is desirable? Central Pacific had been set up with its own traffic arrangements and perhaps with some new lines to make necessary connections."

MONTANA'S DEATH RATE IS LOWEST
WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Figures for practically all states within the death registration area of the country, as announced today by the census bureau, reflect the decreased death rate for the total area in 1921, as compared with the preceding year.

Of the adjusted rates figured on the differences in the sex and age distribution of the population in the various states, Montana showed the lowest, 8.8 per 1,000 population, and Massachusetts the highest, 13.4. For cities of 100,000 or more population the lowest adjusted rate, 8.2 was reported for Akron, Ohio, while a rate of 19 for Memphis, Tenn., was the highest.

DEER LODGE MAYOR FREED OF CHARGES
HELENA, Mont., Nov. 27.—Complete victory for Frank Conley, mayor of Deer Lodge, former warden of the state penitentiary, was contained in a decision announced today by District Judge E. J. ### Professor Abandons One Day Bride; Wife Takes Spouse Back

Tiernan Declares He Was Mentally Drunk When He Married Widow Saturday Who Also Has Cloudy Past Marriage

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Mrs. Blanche Hawn Rash Brimmer, second wife of John P. Tiernan, former professor of law at Notre Dame university, possesses a marital status at least for a day, according to revelations she made here before returning to Marshalltown, Ia., where she planned to set about today learning what she was entitled legally to accept Mr. Tiernan in their Crown Point, Ind., marriage ceremony Saturday.

Mrs. Brimmer was left by Professor Tiernan with the injunction to "go and redeem yourself in my eyes," replying a tearful "Oh, I will dear John."

Those expressions came after Professor Tiernan and Mrs. Brimmer were informed their marriage had been rendered illegal by annulment of Professor Tiernan's divorce from Mrs. Augusta Tiernan at South Bend, Ind., and her own prior marital status possibly was jeopardized. When she was 16 years old, eight years ago, she eloped with Floyd L. Rash, Marshalltown baker, from the home of her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Charles E. Hawn, then of Ardella, Ia., and now of Hansell, Ia., she said.

Four days after receiving a notice that Rash had sued for divorce, she said she married Arthur H. Brimmer at Oskaloosa, Ia., only to learn still later that Rash had not obtained a final decree when she married Brimmer.

TIGER ADVISED TO TONE DOWN HIS REMARKS
ABOARD CLEMENCEAU'S PRIVATE CAR ENROUTE TO CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Deep in a campaign for France that already has brought attacks by Democrats as well as Republicans on the senate floor and criticism from the British government, Georges Clemenceau, Tiger of France, today declared he would speak his piece out in his own way, no matter whom he offended.

The French premier of war days, it was learned today, has received dozens of telegrams from friends and well wishers of France urging him to tone down his remarks so that they will not offend portions of the nation he came to win. One telegram urged him to "say things that America wants to hear and be expedient."

WON'T BE EXPEDIENT.
"I did not come here to be expedient," Clemenceau said when he received this message. I came to tell the truth. I didn't come to say the things that would be of value in my judgment to help preserve the peace of the world.

"I have never been a compromiser. Now that I have one foot in the grave, I will not make a sacrifice to expediency. I don't want a success of expediency."

Besides the telegrams, Clemenceau has had personal suggestions from men of importance as to how he should conduct his self-imposed task of seeking American cooperation in settling the old world differences.

To one who suggested a plan to him in New York Sunday, just before he left for Chicago, where he is to speak Tuesday, the Tiger replied, clapping him on the back:

GO AHEAD, HE SAYS.
"That is a good mission for you. I may be wrong but I must deliver my message in my own way, no matter who dislikes it."

It was learned today that Clemenceau was considering some changes in his itinerary. One place that he is considering adding is the mining town of Clemenceau, Ariz.

Mining men of that town have besieged him with pleas to come, offering to donate the proceeds of the run of the copper mines for the day of his visit to any charity he names. The sum realized would be about $28,000, he was advised.

"I should like to go there," he said. But whether he will is still undecided.

DEER LODGE MAYOR FREED OF CHARGES
HELENA, Mont., Nov. 27.—Complete victory for Frank Conley, mayor of Deer Lodge, former warden of the state penitentiary, was contained in a decision announced today by District Judge E. J. ### CRIME IN OGDEN DISCUSSED BY REV. GARRISON

Minister Thankful No Business Man Would Sign Bond

BETTERMENT URGED

Education In Home and of Foreigners Urged By Pastor

"The man who was responsible for the death of a young Ogden girl at the Deet hospital recently, is worse than Fatty Arbuckle," the Rev. L. A. Garrison, pastor of the First Baptist church, declared in a sermon delivered Sunday evening on the subject, "Crime in Ogden."

Arbuckle dealt with women of his own class but in the local case it was a girl dealt with by a man twice her own age and he thought she did not understand the enormity of the crime.

Dr. Garrison said he thanked God no business man would sign the bond for the man implicated in the local case. He had always felt good about it and thought this fact made the city cleaner and more moral than before.

He said there ought not to be an attack in Ogden who would defend him. He was entitled to defense but he should get his defense from outside the city. A man who has offended the city with such a crime should not be defended by a lawyer who loves his city, the minister declared.

CHURCH MUST ACT
Taking as his text, "This, my son, was dead and is alive again," Dr. Garrison said many men are dead—dead in crime. He said he was not in the habit of delivering sensational sermons; the church is not a prosecuting attorney, but he felt that in this history of the city when crime was so rampant that a church and a minister should declare himself.

In the early summer, Dr. Garrison said, Apostle McKay had tried to arouse interest in a problem that existed in this city. He had not interested himself in that problem because he had not been here a sufficient length of time to understand local conditions, but since that time a crime had been committed that had injured the commerce of the city more than the railroad strike and he thought he would fall in his duty if he did not speak out.

PEOPLE SET STANDARDS
The minister discussed the civil and criminal laws and how they function. He said we find fault with the courts and the police but they generally measure up to the standard of the people who elect them. He said there was a condition at the back of the courts which needed overhauling so they will function better than before.

Dr. Garrison said the crime wave is said to be due to the effect of the war. He said Sherman said "War is hell," and when hell is let loose on the earth it takes time to get back to normal conditions. Ogden, though he said, was not one of the worst cities in the country, he thought.

ABOUT BOUTLEGGING
Violations of the prohibition law have given considerable trouble, the minister said, and called attention to the fact that defendants in prohibition cases had foreign names and were not Americans. He said the reason for this was the foreigner who comes to this country takes up a business where money making is easy and drifts un-
